WHISPERING PINES

1965

PUBLISHED BY THE SENIORS OF EDNEYVILLE HIGH SCHOOL
EDNEYVILLE, NORTH CAROLINA.

Youth in

Bold youth seeking to challenge knowledge with a fresh, intelligible vision . . . active youth pursuing to overcome with a sense of satisfaction . . . Edneyville youth plunging to succeed . . . achievement in academics . . . organization in activities . . . participation in athletics. With an inquiring mind, always with a goal to be reached, may youth seek proficiency. With its ever enlarging worlds, let there be always YOUTH IN SEARCH.

ADVERTISEMENTS

With a final check and a few added lines from Rosemary and Barbara, the Whispering Pines meets its deadline.

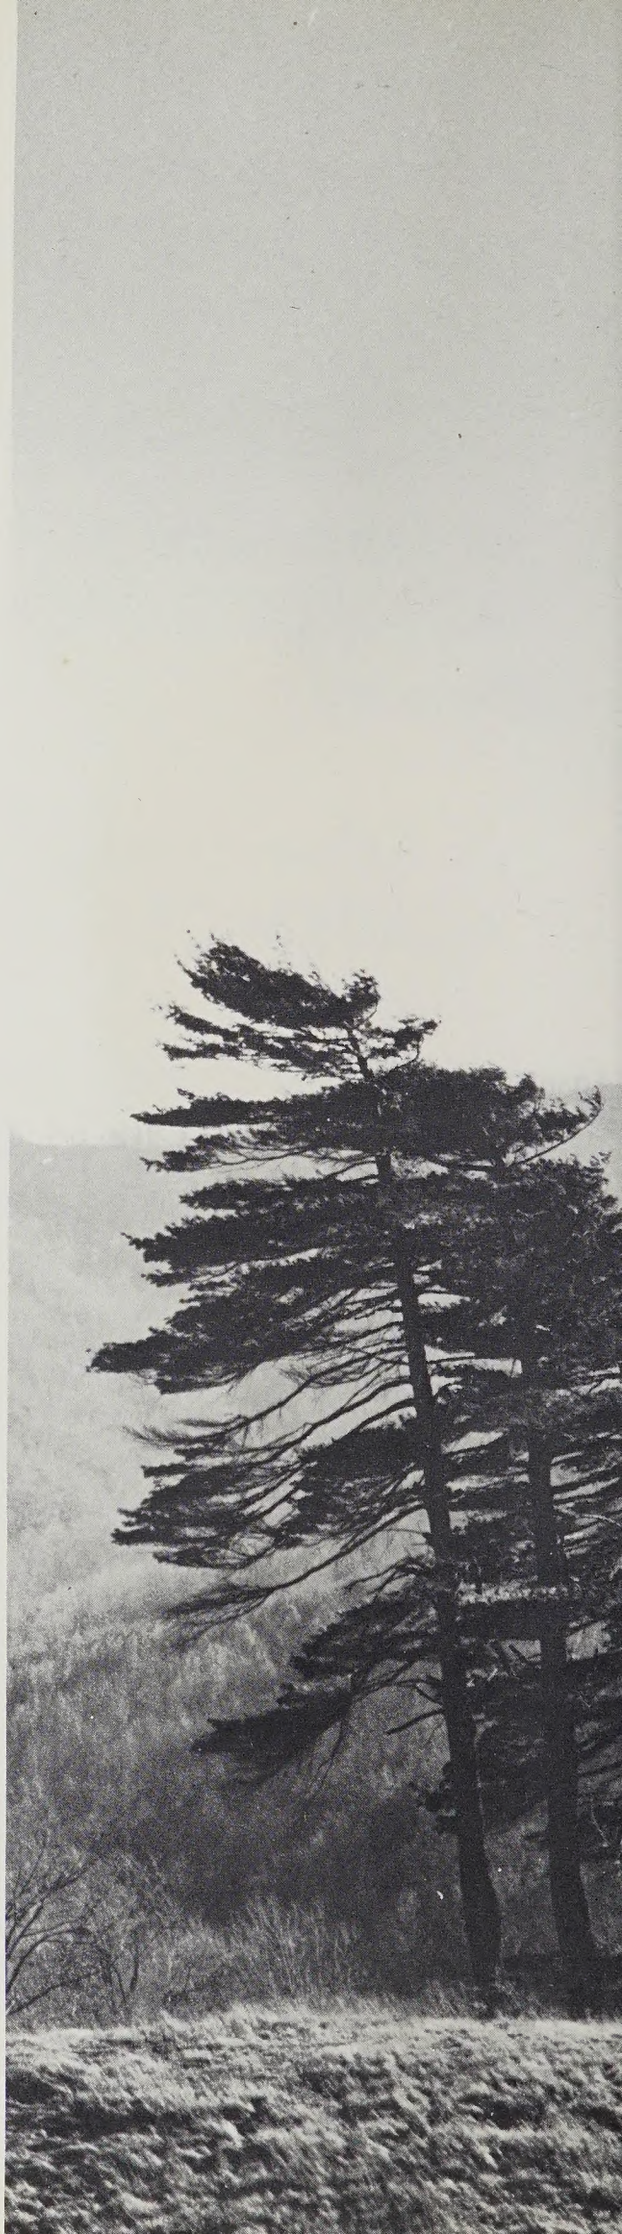
Rosemary Underwood-Co-editor. Barbara Pryor-Co-editor. Business Staff: Micheal Pressley, Lauren Rogers, Marilyn Lyda, Tony Hudgins. Staff: Janet Laughter, Sandra Lancaster, Patsy Nix, Donald Dalton, Nancy Neal, James Hemphill, Rose Ann Maxwell, Katie Dalton, Mary Zulick, Dianne Stepp, Dixie Stepp, Vivian Moss. Junior Staff: T. C. Huntly, Donna Freeman, Sandra Coston, Abbie Gillespie.



To you, Miss Marion Frances Messer, for your constant encouragement, your faithful support, and your ever-willing assistance, we dedicate this 1965 Whispering Pines.

A REMINISCENCE

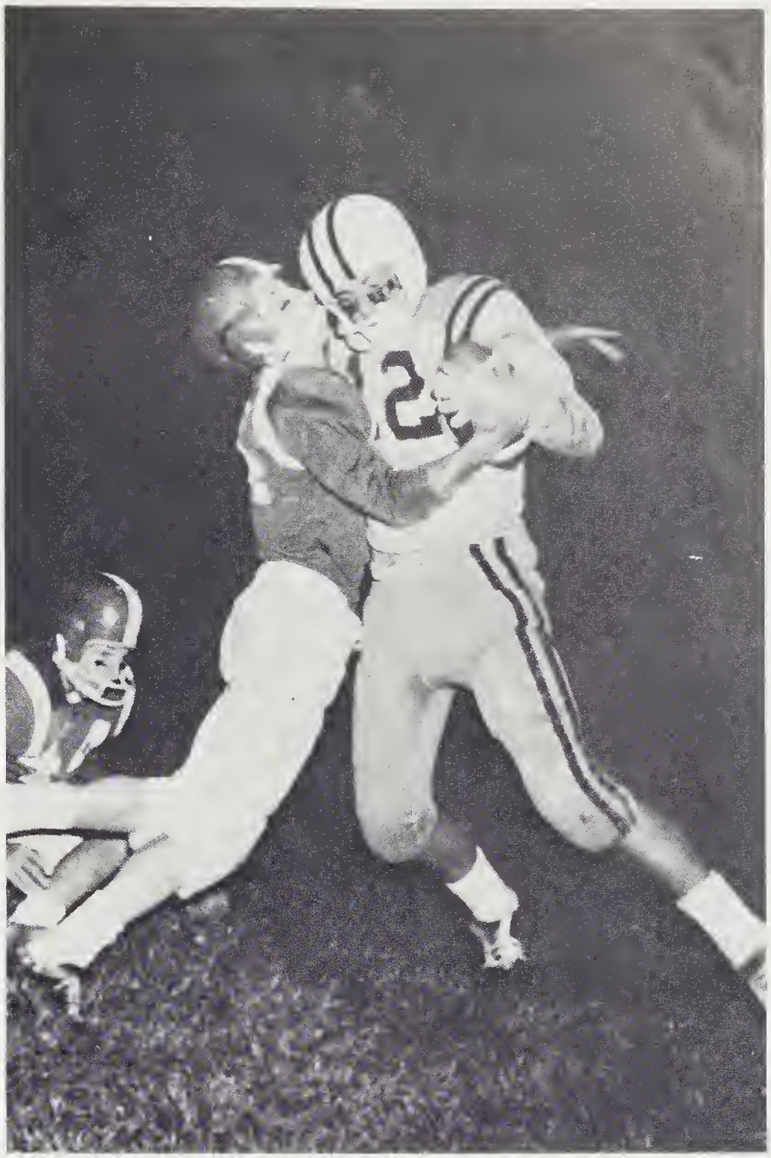
The newly constructed concession stand, another project of the Key Club, takes in needed money for school projects.

Our triumphant football team, with the spirit of the game showing all over them, wear their jerseys and have a team luncheon every Friday before another big game.

Mary and Tony "do the dog" to the latest L.P. at the annual Homecoming Dance.

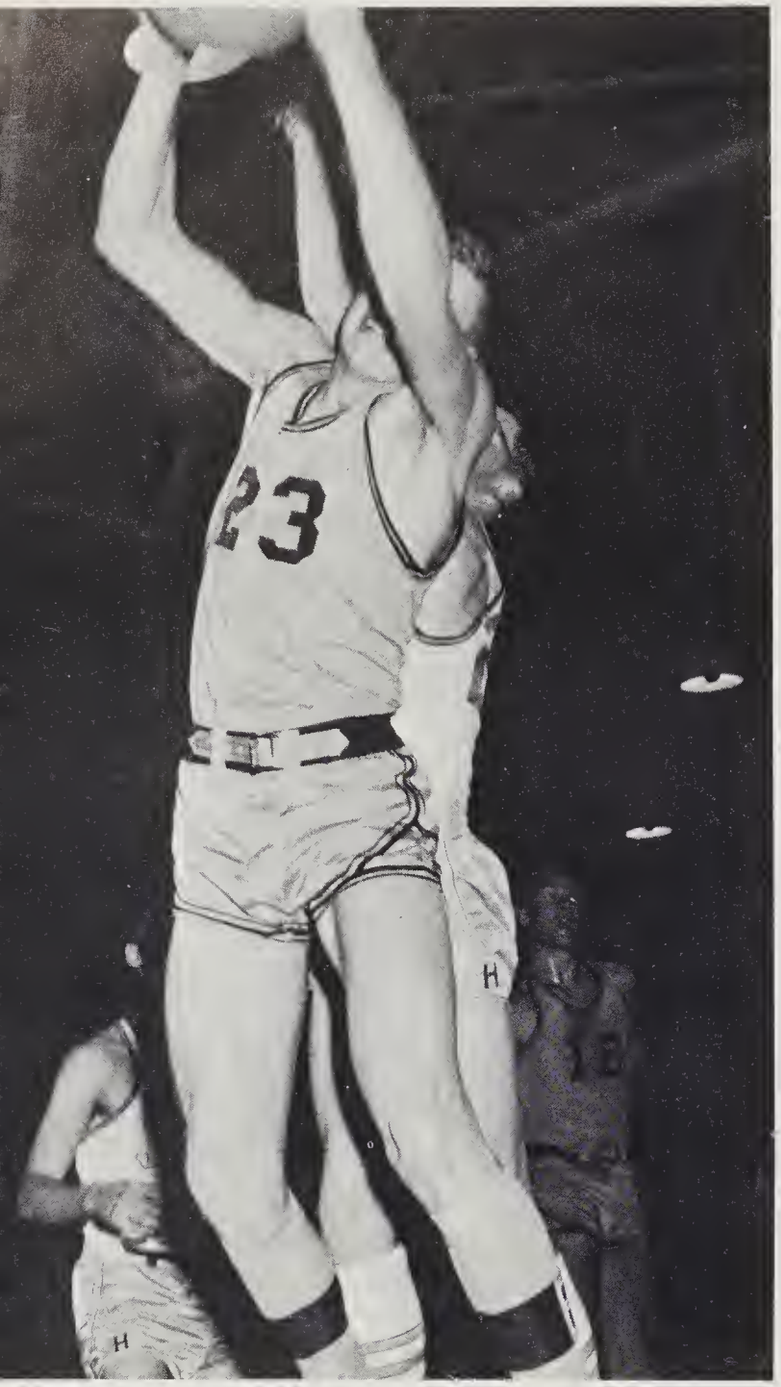
OF EVENTS

Waiting in line at 1600 Pennsylvania Avenue, Edneyville seniors begin to wonder if they will ever get into the White House.



Donald hangs on to the football as Edneyville rolls on to another great victory.

Weary and worn, our Edneyville tourists pause for the photographer in front of our nation's capital.



Mark goes high and gets the basketball as Edneyville rolls over the Falcons for another Jacket victory.

Seniors feast in home room just before Christmas vacation.

Our own "Beatle Band" performs at the May Day Program.

Edneyville couples swing at the WHKP sponsored sock hop.

Our seniors displayed hidden talent in the successful Junior play.

Graduation - a stepping stone to the future.

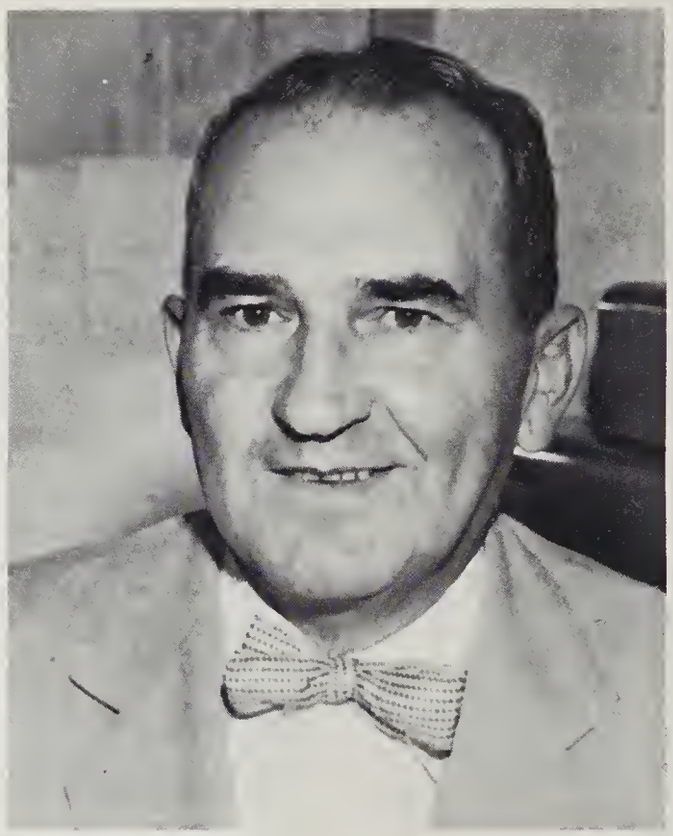
ADMINISTRATION

ADMINISTRATION

Mr. W. J. Nesbitt, Principal



Mr. J. M. Foster, Superintendent of Henderson County Schools

Mrs. Pearl Pace, Secretary

Fred Lyda, Bill Wilson, and Tom Oates, Trustees

FACULTY

Mrs. Sharon Bell, English and Physical Education
Mrs. Annie Burley, English and French
Mrs. Elaine Burroughs, English and French

John Burroughs, Social Science
Miss Elizabeth Cody, Business Education
Gaylord Davis, Vocational

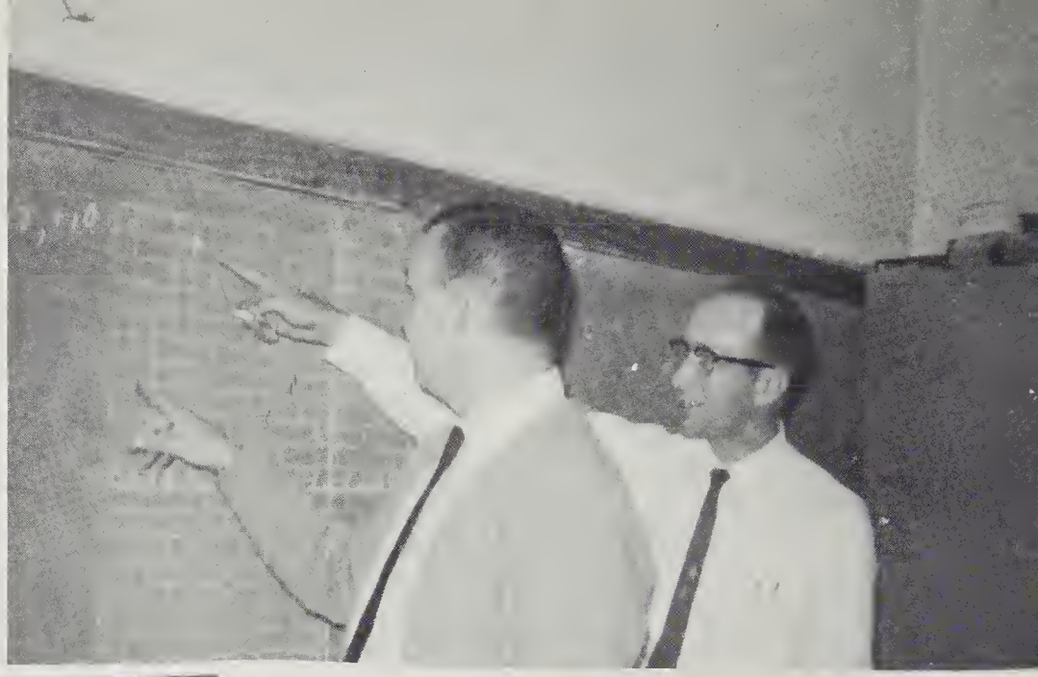
Rex Freeman, English and Social Science
Mrs. Margaret Lawter, Library and Guidance
Ellis Lyda, Mathematics

Miss Frances Messer, Vocational
Mrs. Betty Oates, Business Education
Harris Pryor, Science

French Rogers, Science and Mathematics
Bill Whitmire, Physical Education

MATH and SCIENCE

From the "do it yourself" person to future engineers, Mr. Rogers and Mr. Lyda instill within all the desire to learn by opening the door to the wide world of science and mathematics.



LIBRARY

In the midst of managing a most efficient library, Mrs. Lawter still finds time to listen to a student's problems.

SOCIAL SCIENCES

LANGUAGE

Edneyville now has one of the "musts" for the study of a foreign language. Mrs. Burley demonstrates the use of the new language lab.

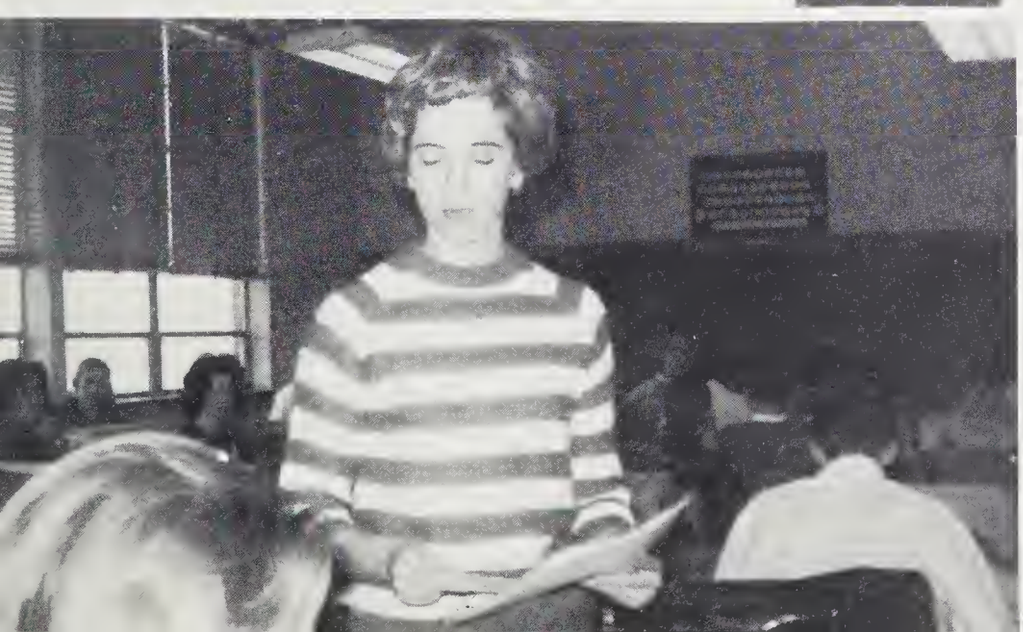
P.E.

Understanding that good health is essential for happiness, Mrs. Bell enforces a rigorous but enjoyable physical fitness program.

VOCATIONAL

For the more practical individual, Miss Messer offers courses in homemaking and family living.

Mr. Burroughs teaches his students to face their problems of today through the experiences of past generations.



COMMERCIAL

Miss Cody and Mrs. Oates know that a robot will never replace the secretary.

FEATURES

HOMECOMING QUEEN

One who cherishes friendship and possesses the beauty and grace of a queen.

Miss Janet Laughter

L. to R. - Sandra Burgess; Judy Garren; Pattie Daniels; Barbara Pryor; Janet Laughter, Queen; Patsy Nix; Karen Stepp; Yvonne Boyette; Sandra Lyda.

HOMECOMING CEREMONIES

Rosemary Underwood attended the Civitan Youth Conference at Wild Acres.

Michael Pressley was our delegate to Boys' State at Chapel Hill.

Katie Dalton took time out from her studies in Modern Algebra at W.C.C. to learn a new victory cheer.

OUR ACTIVE SENIORS

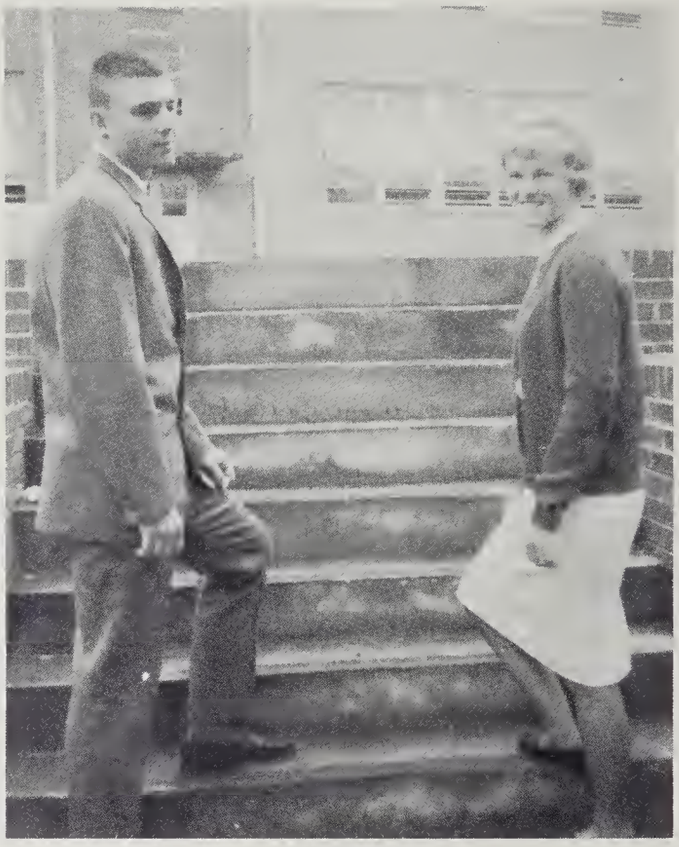
Terry Lyda and Wayne Wyatt, our seniors who are now Eagle Scouts.

Barbara Pryor, after climbing to the top as our Miss Hi Miss of 1964, is descending the stairs on her way to visit Winthrop College.

OUR LOVELY LADIES

Sandra Coston is eager to leave for Winthrop and the experiences which await her as Miss Hi Miss of 1965.

BEST ALL AROUND
Round and 'round they go and where they stop . . . they never stop! This busy schedule is typical of Barbara Pryor and Michael Pressley.



MOST LIKELY TO SUCCEED
Climbing the steps to success and the attaining of their goals seem to be the main ambition of Katie Dalton and Donald Dalton.

SENIOR

MOST ATHLETIC
Surely there is more to bouncing a ball than meets the eye. Our Rosemary Underwood and Charles Freeman have proved this with their athletic ability and good sportsmanship.

MOST DEPENDABLE
We trust that Lauren Rogers and James Hemphill are simply checking the roll and are disregarding their grades hidden within.

MOST COURTEOUS
The little courtesies of life are the qualities we admire in Sandra Lancaster and David Heatherly.

MOST POPULAR
The Eden of Edneyville includes Terry Lyda and Janet Laughter portraying our Adam and Eve, the first at E. H. S.

SUPERLATIVES

WITTIEST
Eddie Merrell's wit and trickery fool everyone but June Laughter who knows she will end up paying for the Coke.

MOST PLEASING PERSONALITY
A warm smile and a friendly greeting characterize the glowing personalities of Patsy Nix and Billy Cox.
